ART EXHIBIT

Welcome to the world of animation!

It's a world that's larger-than-life, where a picture has the power to convey a thousand words... ignite an infinite realm of imagination... and create a limitless source of smiles.

On loan from the Lighthouse Art Center in Tequesta, this captivating exhibit is a whimsical gallery of madcap characters from six of the world's leading animation artists.

Best of all, you'll have an opportunity to sit at a workstation to create your very own fun and fanciful computer-generated animations. Our docents will introduce you to a variety of programs, equipment and supplies including 3-D printers and laser cutting tools—and then it's up to you to turn your imagination loose!

- Carter Goodrich: Character designer for Despicable Me, Ratatouille, Finding Nemo, Shrek, Hotel Transylvania, Brave, Open Season, Coco, as well as 17 New Yorker magazine covers (and counting)

This world-class exhibit showcases the genius of several well-loved animation artists:

- Bryan Ballinger: Concept artist for VeggieTales, Microsoft, Nintendo, Explorapedia Children's Encyclopedia

- Kevan Atteberry: Internationally-renowned designer of "Clippy" from Microsoft Word, Tumblr's Nearly Neighbors, and children's books, including Bunnies!!! and Tickle Monster

- Matt Ficner: FX animation engineer, creative design and fabricator for visual media and theatre, special creatures, characters, and professional puppets

- Patrick Girouard: Award-winning Illustrator for National Geographic World, Scholastic, Highlights Hidden Pictures, over 100 children's books, and Tumblr's Nearly Neighbors

- David Biedrzycki: Author/illustrator; Sumo Kitty, designer, character artist, Exquisite Dorks

- Russ Cox: Video game developer, Plants vs. Zombies, Warner Brothers' Surf's Up, Gamewright's Chef Pop de Pop, and illustrator for McDonald's Fun Times Magazine
